Advice From Other Transfers

Welcome to the Tar Heel family! The biggest advice that I can give to transfers is to make connections! Coming into a school as a junior isn't easy, so go out, join some clubs and really make sure you put yourself in the community. There's so many things to do around campus starting with Week of Welcome". - Gabrela Zafiropoulos

"My advice to you is to just go for it, if you find something that you are even slightly interested in - explore it, life begins at the end of your comfort zone so get a little uncomfortable and try new things that you’re maybe not so used to because you never know until you try! College is your time to find yourself and be unapologetically you, so go for it!" - Jenah Freeman

Myth: Transfers don't have enough time to study abroad.

Fact: The staff located at the UNC study abroad office will help you find the right program for your major, regardless of your transfer status.

Head over to the FedEx Global Education Center, Room 2009 to discuss your options of over 300 programs located in more than 70 countries.

Follow us
Snapchat: unc_tsa
Twitter: @UNC_tsa
Facebook: @UNCnsfp.tsa
Instagram: @uncnsfp_tsa
Questions, ideas or feedback?
Email: unsnsfp.tsa@gmail.com

Upcoming
August 21st
First day of Classes
August 27th
Last day for late registration
September 3rd
Labor Day- no classes!
Utilize your Resources!

Here at UNC, there are many programs in place to help students be successful. Personal librarians are full time staff that are dedicated to helping connect students to Carolina’s rich library system. Personal librarians can help you conduct research, locate information, and develop effective search strategies. The libraries at UNC are an expansive, yet sometimes overwhelming resource. Personal librarians are a great place to start when you begin research.

For more information about the Personal Librarian for Transfer Students program, contact Suchi Mohanty (pictured to the right) at smohanty@email.unc.edu.

(From right to left: Caroline Taheri, Jenah Freeman, Jasmin Herrera, DJ Brunson, Breyia Spruill, Amanda Gustafson, Amanda Simmons, Joe Dell’Olio, and Laurence Dale Diao.
Not Pictured: Gabriela Zafiropoulos, Chales Howe, Sydney Kristine, Jessica Lee.)