Attending Carolina: The Lost Art of Paying Attention - Room 3409

The best things about college all require something hard to come by these days: the ability to pay attention. We live in an environment engineered to capture our attention at every waking moment, and most of us feel a constant low-grade friction between what we want our lives to look like and what our phones, feeds, and notifications keep pulling us toward. Join us to pause and actually think about that. Hosted by EVA (Educating for the Virtues of Attention), a UNC program dedicated to helping students build and strengthen attentional habits through events spanning art, nature, performance, reading, and community.

Campus Recreation - Room 3408

Find out all the ways Tar Heels stay active during their time at Carolina! Campus Rec offers facilities and services to enhance your mental, physical, and social well-being. Discover how to participate in our wide variety of programs, intramural sports, and sport clubs. On-campus, off-campus, in-person or virtually, we help you stay active!

Career Planning Equals Career Success - Room 3203

Did you know that employers are shifting away from GPA as a screening tool to evaluate candidates? Other factors, such as internship experience and proficiency in the career readiness competencies, play a larger role. This session will introduce the importance of career readiness in four steps to families and students. Step one starts now!

Undergraduate Research - Room 3411

Have you ever wanted to research art history in Spain, study ecology in the South Pacific, or even help find cures for cancer right here in Chapel Hill? The Office for Undergraduate Research can help students achieve these goals. Students at UNC can conduct research in humanities, social sciences, and natural sciences beginning their first year.
